

Athens, 21/08/2026

Appointment of Chief Compliance and Corporate Governance Officer

CrediaBank welcomes Ms. Anastasia Kaimaki to its management team. Ms. Kaimaki assumes the position of Chief Compliance and Corporate Governance Officer, effective as of 21.08.2026. In this role, she will report to the Audit Committee and indirectly to the Chief International Officer & Chief of Staff of the Bank.

As Chief Compliance and Corporate Governance Officer, Ms. Kaimaki will be responsible for overseeing and managing the Bank's Compliance and Corporate Governance function while engaging with supervisory authorities and ensuring effective navigation of the Bank's regulatory environment.

Brief CV of the New Executive of CrediaBank

Anastasia Kaimaki, Chief Compliance and Corporate Governance Officer

Ms. Kaimaki is a senior executive with extensive experience in Compliance, Corporate Governance, Operational Risk, AML/CTF and Data Protection. Most recently, she served as General Manager/Head of Compliance & Data Protection at Intrum Hellas.

During her 25-year career, she has held senior leadership, risk, transformation and project management roles at Intrum Hellas, Piraeus Bank, Geniki Bank, Marfin Egnatia Bank, Eurobank and Accenture, combining strong legal expertise with extensive business experience, particularly in compliance matters, affecting institutions supervised by the Bank of Greece and the Hellenic Capital Market Commission. She has a strong track record in business transformation, governance enhancement and large-scale programs delivery as well as deep expertise in navigating complex regulatory environments and cooperating effectively with supervisory authorities. She has led multidisciplinary teams, fostering a strong compliance culture and supporting organizational resilience and sustainable business performance.

Ms. Kaimaki is a qualified Attorney-at-Law, holding an LL.B. in Law from Manchester Metropolitan University as well as a Certificat d' Etudes Politiques from the University de Lyon II and an LL.M. in European Community Law from the University of Essex.