

Treasury Business Development Officer

CrediaBank, which was created through the merger of Attica Bank and the former Pancreta Bank, is looking for a Treasury Business Development Officer to join our dynamic team.

Job details

Job type: Full-time

Location: Athens, Greece

Apply via LinkedIn or email: Recruitment@crediabank.com

About the job

Join our Financial Markets team and play a pivotal role in advancing the Bank's digital and operational excellence. As a Treasury Business Development Officer, you'll coordinate key activities across treasury systems and help shape the evolution of our treasury products and client solutions. You'll contribute to developing innovative offerings, streamlining processes, and enhancing overall efficiency and performance within the Financial Markets General Division.

Responsibilities

- Perform the analysis of Trading, ALM and Treasury Sales Business Areas' related activities, including implementation of business plan, performance overview, transaction statistics, facilitating business evaluation and decision making.
- Perform activities and liaise with the partner companies relating to systems used exclusively by the Treasury Trading & Treasury Sales Business Area (i.e., Bloomberg and FIS-Quantum), ensuring smooth operation.
- Evaluate business needs and identify areas of process improvement and risk mitigation (eg. reporting upgrades, further automations / reconciliation procedures, optimized procedures).
- Lead new implementation of new systems and upgrade of existing ones, within the Financial Markets sphere.
- Work with product teams to identify system needs for new products and follow them through to implementation.

Qualifications

- Bachelor's degree in Finance, Economics, or a quantitative field of study. A postgraduate degree in Banking and Finance is considered a strong asset.
- A minimum of four (4) to six (6) years in relevant position.
- Strong understanding of treasury products, liquidity management, and relevant risk concepts.
- Strong digital literacy skills, including proficiency in data handling, spreadsheet and analysis tools, and database management. You'll leverage applications such as Microsoft Excel (advanced functions and modeling), Power BI
- Familiarity with using or deploying financial market software

- Full professional competency in English language (oral and written).
- Excellent communication, negotiation, and presentation skills.
- Ability to work collaboratively with Treasury dealers and other internal stakeholders.

About CrediaBank

CrediaBank was created through the merger of Attica Bank and the former Pancreta Bank, and is the 5th largest bank in Greece in terms of assets. It is a modern banking institution with a network of 65 branches and 5 business centers across the country, serving approximately 300,000 individuals and businesses with a wide portfolio of deposit, investment, and insurance products, mutual funds, loans, and brokerage services. Customer service is a top priority for CrediaBank, which is why it is the only bank that welcomes customers both with and without appointments, offers cashier services available throughout the day, and operates with extended hours through the CrediaConnect service. CrediaBank operates as a credit institution supervised by the Bank of Greece, strictly applying both European and national regulatory frameworks governing the operation of banks. More information about the Bank is available on our website www.crediabank.com

We respect your personal data

CrediaBank, taking into account that the personal data of candidate employees is of great importance, informs you in accordance with Regulation (EU) 2016/679 and the relevant provisions of the applicable Greek legislation for the protection of personal data, in its capacity as controller of the type of personal data it collects, the reason they are collected and processed and how long they are retained here.